a.s.r. publishes 2024 annual report and introduces climate transition plan

ASR Nederland N.V. (a.s.r.) publishes its 2024 annual report today, which for the first time includes a separate chapter reporting on the sustainability aspects of its operations in line with the CSRD. In addition to the annual report, a.s.r. introduces a climate transition plan, outlining steps to achieve its self-imposed climate goals.

In the 2024 annual report, a.s.r. reports for the first time in a separate chapter on its efforts and goals in the field of sustainability, in line with the CSRD (Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive). This chapter includes, among other things, the nature targets that a.s.r. established at the end of 2024, which guide the strategy and ambitions of a.s.r. in the field of nature conservation.

This year, a.s.r. also introduces a climate transition plan. This plan describes the steps a.s.r. is taking to achieve its self-imposed climate goals. It is an important addition to the existing sustainability strategy and underlines a.s.r.'s commitment to a sustainable world. With this step, a.s.r. bids farewell to the climate and biodiversity report.

Jos Baeten, CEO of a.s.r.: 'The 2024 annual report marks an important milestone for a.s.r., with the introduction of a separate CSRD chapter. Together with the climate transition plan, this demonstrates our ongoing commitment to sustainability and the responsibility we take to contribute to a future-proof world. We show strong financial and non-financial results for 2024 and are well on our way with the full integration of Aegon Nederland. These achievements are a testament to the dedication and hard work of the entire a.s.r. team, and I look forward to the future with confidence and enthusiasm.'

In addition to the annual report and climate transition plan, a.s.r. also publishes the Solvency and Financial Condition Report (SFCR) for 2024 of a.s.r. Nederland N.V. today. The documents can be downloaded at www.asrnl.com/investor-relations/annual-reports. The annual report of a.s.r. is also available in digital format via: annualreport.asrnl.com/2024.
