

Press release

21 April 2026

a.s.r. brings together real estate and infrastructure activities under a single platform named a.s.r. real assets

As of 21 April, a.s.r.'s real estate and infrastructure activities will continue under the name a.s.r. real assets. This umbrella name brings together the various activities in the fields of real estate, infrastructure and development, and reflects the broadening and diversity of the platform. The use of the new name has no consequences for stakeholders.

Under a.s.r. real assets, four activities for institutional investors are brought together:

- Fund Management: a.s.r.'s Dutch real estate funds
- Separate Account Management: management of tailor-made mandates
- Investment Partners: fiduciary management and (inter)national investment solutions
- Area Development: residential and area developments in the Netherlands

The name a.s.r. real assets aligns with the scaling up and diversification of recent years. The range of real estate funds has been broadened with funds focused on infrastructure and natural capital, including wind and solar parks, energy storage and agricultural land. As of 1 January 2026, a substantial portfolio of residential developments has also been added to the platform. In the coming years, the area developer of a.s.r. real assets is expected to realise approximately 13,000 homes in the Netherlands. In addition, the management of a.s.r.'s separate residential account (approximately 7,500 homes) has been incorporated into the platform.

For stakeholders, the use of the name a.s.r. real assets means greater cohesion and a single organisation with an integrated approach to investments in real assets, while retaining existing mandates, governance structures and supervision.

Dick Gort, CEO a.s.r. real assets: 'In recent years, we have grown into a broad platform for global investments in real estate and infrastructure. With the name a.s.r. real assets, we bring these activities together under one recognisable brand. This strengthens our positioning towards clients and investors and supports our ambition to add value through scale, expertise and a long-term focus.'
